

DiDi Delgado

Black Lives Matter Cambridge

Friday, November 3 • 7pm

First Unitarian Universalist Church

109 Waring Rd.

Syracuse, NY

DiDi Delgado is an award winning poet, author, activist, and freelance journalist. She is also an organizer with Black Lives Matter Cambridge. As the Head of Operations at S.O.U.P (The Society Of Urban Poetry), DiDi facilitates writing workshops aimed at bridging the gaps between intersections of race, class, gender, sexual identity, and orientation. DiDi is consistently on the front lines blazing pathways, creating channels, and fostering connections in support of the most marginalized.

The speaking event will be followed by a question and discussion period.

$10-25 sliding scale

Please pay according to your means.

No one turned away for lack of funds.

All proceeds go directly to DiDi.

Free childcare provided.

Site is fully wheelchair accessible.

Questions? Call 610-952-5821.

